UNTITLED

Saturday, July 10, 2021 to Friday, July 23, 2021

Alana is an Irish illustrator and multi-disciplinary designer working in Belfast and London. Alana takes her interest in pop-culture, current affairs and graphic art to create artwork with a rebellious edge. She works across a number of mediums but specialises in mural work and commercial illustration. Working predominantly in sectors that she feels passionate about such as sustainability, female first campaigns and music - approaching her work with a focus on honesty and empowerment. You can expect heavy line work, bold type and stark contrasting colours from most of her projects.
